BOB WILLIAMS - PRESIDENT, ATLANTA HAWKS & PHILIPS ARENA

Bob Williams is president of the NBA's Atlanta Hawks and president of Philips Arena. As Atlanta Hawks President, Williams has oversight of the franchise's business operations. As president of Philips Arena he oversees all operations as well as the venue's in-house concert and entertainment promotions company.

Williams was a member of the executive committee to oversee the design and construction of Philips Arena. Previously, he was a 22-year employee of the Omni Coliseum and the Atlanta Hawks. He was The Omni's president beginning in 1994 until it was imploded in 1997.

Williams holds board positions with the Georgia Alliance for Children, the Atlanta Hawks Foundation, the Atlanta Convention & Visitors Bureau (ACVB), the Atlanta Sports Council, and Central Atlanta Progress, and is a member of the Rotary Club of Atlanta.

In addition, Williams recently was made Honorary First Sergeant of Fort Benning's Charlie and Delta Companies of the 30th AG Infantry. Williams is a graduate of the University of Georgia.

HAWKS MANAGEMENT

RICK SUND - EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER

With over 36 years of NBA experience, longtime league executive Rick Sund enters his fourth season as the Hawks Executive Vice President and General Manager. Sund, who assumed the position on May 28, 2008, has seen the Hawks post a record of 144-102 (.585) under his leadership and reach the playoffs in each of his first three seasons in Atlanta.

Should the Hawks reach the postseason for the fifth consecutive year, it will be the longest stretch of playoff berths for the franchise since the seven-season run from 1992-93 to 1998-99.

Sund, who looks to build on his successful run as Hawks GM, is responsible for basketball operations, including coaching, player personnel, contract negotiations and salary cap management.

In his first full summer as the team's head of basketball operations, the Hawks retained the bulk of the team's nucleus from the 2008-09's 47-win club, including unrestricted free agents Mike Bibby and Zaza Pachulia, and restricted free agent Marvin Williams.

The Hawks landed additional firepower when the organization added the services of veteran guard Jamal Crawford from Golden State, and drafted Wake Forest's Jeff Teague (the 19th overall pick in the 2009 Draft).

In 2009-10, Atlanta returned to postseason play for the third straight year (and second under Sund) and recorded the franchise's best record in 13 seasons when they finished with 53 victories and a third-place regular season ranking in the Eastern Conference. His ability to obtain Crawford via trade not only filled a void coming off the bench, but also provided the Hawks with a legitimate Sixth Man of the Year candidate. A starter for much of his pro career, Crawford was willing and able to do what was necessary (he tallied a league-high 18.0 ppg, the most by any reserve a year ago) for the team en route to winning the NBA honor and reaching the playoffs for the first time in his career.

After the re-signing of All-Star Joe Johnson to a contract last summer, Sund's responsibilities also included the hiring of Larry Drew as the Hawks new coach, and the duo guided Atlanta to the franchise's fourth straight postseason appearance. With the resumption of the 2011-12 season Sund has added more depth to the roster by acquiring former All-Star Tracy McGrady and veterans Jerry Stackhouse and Vladimir Radmanovic, three quality players who will provide a great deal of support to the Hawks efforts this year.

Formerly the General Manager of the Seattle Sonics from 2001-07, Sund and the Sonics were the inaugural champions of the Northwest Division in 2004-05, and the team reached the postseason twice during his tenure.

Prior to that, he served in several different capacities with the Dallas Mavericks from 1979-94, finishing up as Vice President of Basketball Operations. At the start of his tenure, he helped the expansion Mavericks develop their inaugural season roster as the Director of Player Personnel. Selected by team President Norm Sonju, Sund - at the age of 28 - became one of the youngest lead executives in the league.

One of the NBA's most-respected front office executives, Sund presided over a Mavericks team that won a franchise-record 55 games and took home the Midwest Division title in 1986-87. Dallas matched or improved their record in each of the franchise's first eight seasons, reaching the playoffs on six occasions and making it to the Western Conference Finals in 1988.

In 1994, he spent one season as a consultant for the Sonics during Wally Walker's first season as GM, managing the Sonics' college scouting program and assisting Walker with personnel decisions.

Sund joined the Pistons as Vice President of Player Personnel in the summer of 1995, later assuming the title of Executive VP and General Manager of Basketball Operations. The Pistons, winners of 100 games in his first two seasons, participated in the playoffs four times during his Detroit years, where he spent six seasons (1995-2001).

Sund began his career in Milwaukee under the tutelage of Wayne Embry, spending five years with the Bucks after graduating with a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio University in 1974.

He was a two-sport athlete at Northwestern University, where in basketball (as a 6-4 guard) he earned CoSIDA Academic All-America (third team) honors in 1973, and was twice named academic All-Big Ten, while also seeing action as a tight end and wide receiver on the football team. He holds a bachelor's degree in political science from Northwestern.

Sund is a charter member of the advisory board for the University of Michigan's Division of Kinesiology Sport Management. He previously served on the board of directors for the Special Olympics for the state of Washington, and was an advisory board member of the University of Oregon's business school's Warsaw Sports Marketing and Management Division.

Born on June 4, 1951, Sund has completed three marathons and a mini-triathlon. Richard Walker Sund is a native of Elgin, IL, and is a member of the Illinois Basketball Hall of Fame. He and his wife Lea are the parents of two children, daughter Hali and son Patrick, a member of the basketball operations staff of the Golden State Warriors.

BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

Seeking a return to the States, Wilkins signed a free agent contract with San Antonio and provided more than the Spurs possibly imagined, leading the David Robinson-less Spurs in scoring with an 18.2 average and grabbing 6.4 rebounds.

He returned overseas for the 1997-98 campaign, signing with Italy's Teamsystem before rejoining the NBA for his final professional season (1998-99), as Wilkins saw action in 27 games for the Orlando Magic.

Extremely active with local and national charity endeavors, Wilkins has done work with the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, Special Olympics, Muscular Dystrophy Association and American Lung Association. In July 2007, Wilkins launched "Nique and Newt's Full-Court Press on Diabetes" with former Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, Newt Gingrich. In March 2010, Wilkins was honored by the Georgia State Legislature as they presented a State Resolution naming him the Diabetes Ambassador for the state of Georgia.

Wilkins, 51, was born on January 12, 1960 in Paris, France. He is the proud parent of five girls and two boys. He joined basketball's immortals with his entry into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame on September 8, 2006, was inducted into the Georgia Sports Hall of Fame on April 3, 2004, and into the Atlanta Sports Hall of Fame's inaugural class on June 10, 2005. Wilkins was honored in October 2011 with his induction into the Boys & Girls Clubs of America Alumni Hall of Fame.

MIKE McNEIVE - DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

An 18-year NBA staff veteran, Mike McNeive begins his ninth season with the Hawks and sixth year as Director of Basketball Operations. His responsibilities include oversight of the Hawks' pro advance scouting area, as well as assisting Dave Pendergraft with college and minor league scouting.

McNeive served as Director of Pro Personnel from 2004-06, after originally joining the franchise as an assistant coach during the 2003-04 campaign. He worked the previous five seasons in Milwaukee, where he served as a scout/assistant.

During his stint in Milwaukee, the Bucks reached the playoffs four times, punctuated by a Central Division championship and a trip to the Eastern Conference finals in 2001.

Prior to that, McNeive was with the Seattle Sonics for four seasons as a video coordinator/advance scout. Seattle recorded a 239-89 mark during that time, won three Pacific Division titles and advanced to the NBA Finals in 1996 after winning a franchise-record 64 games.

McNeive got his start in the NBA with the Orlando Magic, where he interned in the video scouting department in 1993-94, as the club reached the playoffs for the first time in franchise history.

A Freeport, Illinois native, McNeive received his undergraduate degree in Physical Education in 1992 from Monmouth College (IL), where he was a four-year letterman in both basketball and baseball for the Fighting Scots. In 1993, he received his Masters Degree in Sports Management and Administration from Georgia Southern University.

Mike and his wife Maggie have four children, Ryan, Ally, Danny and Molly.

DUANE FERRELL - PLAYER RELATIONS AND PROGRAMS MANAGER

Former Hawks forward Duane Ferrell is back with the organization as he begins his fourth season as the team's Player Relations and Programs Manager. Ferrell previously served in a player development role for the Washington Wizards from 2001-04.

Undrafted after a stellar collegiate career at Georgia Tech, Ferrell played 11 years in the NBA, including time with the Hawks (353 games from 1988-94), Indiana Pacers (1994-97) and Golden State Warriors (1997-99).

His best offensive season came in the 1991-92 campaign, when he put in 12.7 ppg and 3.2 rpg in 66 games for Atlanta. Overall, he tallied 6.4 ppg and 1.9 rpg (.480 FG%, .750 FT%) in 583 career contests.

A Yellow Jacket from 1985-88, Ferrell was ACC Rookie of the Year and finished his career under coach Bobby Cremins as the school's third all-time leading scorer (1,818 points), and currently ranks ninth. He concluded as Georgia Tech's all-time leader in games played and was involved in more victories than any other Yellow Jacket.

He attended high school at Calvert Hall (Baltimore, MD), where he was a McDonald's All-American and was part of the 1982 National Championship team, which was ranked number one nationally the entire season. Ferrell was inducted into the inaugural class of the Baltimore Catholic League Hall of Fame earlier this year.

LARRY DREW - HEAD COACH

Larry Drew was named head coach of the Atlanta Hawks on June 12, 2010, becoming the 11th full-time head coach in the franchise's history.

Through his first season, Drew guided the team to a 44-38 record and led the Hawks to the playoffs for the fourth consecutive campaign, coaching his players to a series victory over division-rival Orlando in the first round of the 2011 NBA Playoffs, and falling short of reaching the Eastern Conference finals in a six-game series against the Chicago Bulls.

The Hawks came out of the gates strong to start the 2010-11 season, winning its first six games – Atlanta's longest winning stretch overall of the year – and enjoyed their best months during December and January when the team won 19 of 30 contests. Despite cooling off a bit prior to the playoffs, the Hawks showed enough determination in that series against Orlando, and shook off any thoughts of another playoff disappointment to eliminate the Magic in six games before their eventual loss to the Bulls.

Drew finished with an even .500 record in the postseason as his six playoff victories were the most-ever by a rookie Atlanta coach in his first playoff appearance.

Drew has experience, having played with championship-caliber players like Magic Johnson, James Worthy and Byron Scott. He has also coached under individuals like Scott, Alvin Gentry and Doug Collins, and following 27 seasons as a player and coach, the work invested in those positions set the stage for Drew to obtain the job he has desired for some time, and after 18 years on the bench as an assistant, he was ready for the challenge when Hawks GM Rick Sund named him to the position.

He knows the personalities of his core players after seven years of work in Atlanta, as well as their strengths and weaknesses on the court, and that knowledge serves him well as he attempts to keep the Hawks amongst the best in Eastern Conference and lead them back to the playoffs for the fifth straight season.

Before arriving in Atlanta as the top assistant to then-head coach Mike Woodson in August 2004, Drew was an assistant with the New Jersey Nets and Scott after spending the previous three seasons with the Washington Wizards in a similar capacity (2000-03) under Collins. Prior to that, he re-joined one of the teams he previously played for, the Detroit Pistons, as an assistant coach in 1999-2000. Drew returned to Detroit as an assistant under Alvin Gentry, for the first time since playing with the team as a NBA rookie with the Pistons in 1980-81. His coaching career began in 1992-93 when he broke into the ranks with another of his former teams, the Los Angeles Lakers, whom he played for from 1989-91.

An 11-year professional, Drew averaged 11.4 points and 5.2 assists in 714 career games for four NBA teams. After one season in Detroit, he played the next five years with the Kings, in Kansas City and Sacramento (1981-86), and his final four in Los Angeles (1986-91), for the Clippers and the Lakers. In addition, Drew spent one season internationally as a member of Scavolini of the Italian League in 1988-89.

He was a first round pick in the 1980 NBA Draft – 17th overall selection by the Pistons – and he reached postseason play four times in his pro career (31 games). Drew recorded his best season during the 1982-83 campaign, when he averaged 20.1 points, 8.1 assists and 1.7 steals for Kansas City.

Born April 2, 1958 in Kansas City, Kansas, Drew played four seasons at the University of Missouri, where he averaged 12.0 points and 2.8 rebounds and prepped at Wyandotte High in Kansas City. During the summer, Drew runs the Larry Drew Advanced Guard Academy in Los Angeles, and holds camps around the country.

Drew and his wife Sharon have three children, Larry, Landon and Lindsey. While Larry II is sitting out this year as he transfers to UCLA, he will have one year of college eligibility remaining in 2012-13, his brothers Landon and Lindsey both play high school basketball in the Los Angeles area for Fairfax High School.

He came to the Hawks following two seasons with the Philadelphia 76ers. Bender joined the 76ers staff in 2002 after 13 years as a college head coach and served as the Sixers' assistant coach/player development for the 2002-03 season. He was promoted to assistant bench coach prior to 2003-04.

The 1996 Pac-10 Coach of the Year, Bender guided the University of Washington to a 116-142 record during his nine-year tenure (1994-2001), a mark that ranks fourth all-time among Washington coaches for career victories. He directed the Huskies to four consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament from 1996 to 1999, a feat no other Washington head coach previously accomplished.

His 1998 squad, which featured former Sixers center Todd MacCulloch, recorded a 20-10 (.667) record, posting the school's finest winning percentage since 1985. Among their highlights that year was Washington's first 20-win season since 1987, their first NCAA tourney berth since 1986 and their first Sweet 16 appearance since 1984, falling in the final second to UConn.

Bender began his head coaching career with a four-year tenure at Illinois State (1990-93) where he was 60-57, earning two Missouri Valley Conference championships, one conference tournament title and an NCAA Tournament berth in 1990. He took home MVC Coach of the Year and Illinois Collegiate Coach of the Year honors in 1992, as the Redbirds posted an 18-11 record overall and a 14-4 mark in league play to share the regular season crown.

Prior to his stint at Illinois State, Bender was an assistant under Mike Krzyzewski at Duke (1983-89). The Blue Devils qualified for the NCAA Tournament in each of Bender's six seasons on the staff, including four trips to the Final Four. While at Duke, Bender coached former Blue Devil and current Nets GM Billy King and later worked with him at Illinois State.

The Duke graduate (history, 1980) has the distinction of being the only individual to play on two different teams in two different NCAA Championship games. He was a freshman on Bob Knight's undefeated 1976 Indiana team and played point guard at Duke from 1977-80, including an appearance in the 1978 title game against Kentucky. ## THE HISTORY OF THE HAWKS

FROM MILWAUKEE, TO ST. LOUIS, TO ATLANTA.

It was a setting made for Mark Twain. A banjo box gymnasium called Wharton Field House seating 6,000 on hardwood benches in a city, or should we say three cities, straddling the Mississippi River is where the Atlanta Hawks have their roots.

They were known as the Tri-City Blackhawks, one of the original members of the National Basketball Association after a mid-summer merger in 1949 of the 12-year-old National Basketball League and the four-year-old Basketball Association of America formed the new league.

The Illinois cities of Moline and Rock Island and Davenport, Iowa across the river formed the formal name of the neophyte Blackhawks, coached by Roger Potter.

In the opening game at Wharton Field House, the Blackhawks beat the old Denver Nuggets, 93-85. But after a string of six losses, Potter became the first former coach of the franchise, as he was replaced by Red Auerbach.

The first edition of the Blackhawks made the playoffs, despite being six games under .500, but dropped out in the first round to the Anderson Duffey Packers. Then the coach, better known as Red Auerbach, left for Boston and many green-and-white World Championship banners.

After two years and a grammatical change to Tri-Cities, the Blackhawks packed their bags and moved to Milwaukee. They shortened the nickname to the Hawks and struggled for four years, never winning more than 27 games and finishing last each season. But it was in Milwaukee where the Hawks made a draft choice that would solidify the franchise for years to come.

His name was Bob Pettit. A first-round draft choice from Louisiana State in 1954, Pettit played his entire 11-year career with the Hawks, moving with the club to St. Louis in 1955. He wrote nearly every record in the Hawks' record book and was a four-time MVP of the annual NBA All-Star game, more times than any other player in history.

From 1957 through 1961, the Hawks won five consecutive Western Conference titles. Pettit was the star of the show and had an excellent supporting cast with Cliff Hagan, Slater Martin, Charley Share and Ed Macauley.

In 1958, the Hawks captured their lone World Championship by defeating Boston, four games to two. On three other occasions during the five-year stretch, the Hawks advanced to the finals only to lose to the Celtics each time.

For no apparent reason, the Hawks turned sour during the 1961-62 season and had it not been for the expansion of the Chicago Packers, the club would have gone from first to last in just one year. It was the only spring the Hawks failed to qualify for the playoffs in the 13 seasons they spent in St. Louis.

Fortunately for the franchise, Harry Gallatin, the former All-Pro with the New York Knickerbockers, took over the reins the following season and guided the Hawks to a second-place finish and back into the playoffs. For his efforts, Gallatin became the first recipient of the NBA's Coach of the Year award.

But Gallatin couldn't put the Hawks back on top and was replaced in the middle of the 1964-65 season by Richie Guerin, another Knick standout. The club again made the playoffs but was upset in the opening round by the Baltimore Bullets, a team which finished under .500 and eight games behind the Hawks during the regular season.

After the playoff loss, Pettit took off his uniform for the last time. He wound up his career with a 26.4 scoring average topped by a 31.1 mark during the disappointing '61-'62 campaign. His rebounding standards were even more incredible, a career average of 16.2, and a single-season high of 20.3 set during the 1960-61 season. He was named first-team All-Pro in his first ten seasons in the league, and second-team in his 11th and final season. In 1970, Pettit was enshrined in the Basketball Hall of Fame, and his uniform #9 has been retired.

The Hawks were becoming a young team as was characterized by the early Pettit-led teams. A year later, Hagan was gone, representing the last remaining link to the '58 Championship team.

In their places were Lou Hudson, the number one pick in 1966, Zelmo Beaty, Joe Caldwell, Lenny Wilkens and Bill Bridges. By 1968, the Hawks added another Western Conference title with a record of 56-26 — at that time the best in the team's history — and Guerin became the Hawks' second Coach of the Year.

Then came the shocker.

During the broadcast of an Atlanta Braves baseball game, announcer Milo Hamilton told Atlanta fans the city was going to have a professional basketball team. It was, of course, the Hawks, a perennial NBA powerhouse, moving from St. Louis to Atlanta.

Bringing the team to the South were two of Atlanta's and Georgia's most respected gentlemen, businessman Thomas G. Cousins and former governor Carl E. Sanders. They acquired the club from Ben Kerner.

Skeptics viewed the move as one of disaster since Atlanta had no facility for professional basketball and noted that the area was a hotbed for football, and there was not room for both sports.

It goes without saying that they were wrong on both counts.

The Hawks received permission to play their games in Alexander Memorial Coliseum on the Georgia Tech campus until a new arena could be constructed. Five years later that realization came true when The Omni was completed.

Under Guerin, the Hawks were sensational the first two years in Atlanta. They won the Western Conference title again in 1970 and advanced to the conference finals both seasons before losing to the star-studded Los Angeles Lakers.

With the emergence of the American Basketball Association came the fall of the Hawks. The new league raided the NBA teams, offering big money to the NBA stars in order to build credibility. Beaty was the first to jump in 1969, and Caldwell followed a year later.

Though the Hawks drafted Pete Maravich, the college scoring champion from Louisiana State, in 1970, the team struggled into the playoffs the next two seasons. The club finished 10 games under .500 each year and couldn't get past the first round of the playoffs.

For the 1972-73 season, the Hawks moved into The Omni, then a 16,500-seat structure, with a new coach, Cotton Fitzsimmons. Behind the 27.1 scoring average of Hudson, the Hawks responded to the new surroundings by reversing the record of the previous year.

The next year, however, the Hawks failed to make a playoff appearance for the first time in 12 seasons, and second in 19. Only another expansion team, this time the New Orleans Jazz, kept the club from plummeting into last place. The first move to rectify the situation was to trade Maravich to New Orleans for a slew of draft choices.

Owning the first and third selections in the 1975 NBA College Draft, the Hawks chose David Thompson from North Carolina State and Marvin Webster from Morgan State. The NBA-ABA bidding war was at its peak and both players opted for the Denver Nuggets of the rival league.

The team lost 51 games, the most in thirteen years, and tumbled into last place for the first time since the team left Milwaukee. Fitzsimmons lost his job eight games from the end (1975-76).

The bright spot on the club was the emergence of John Drew, a second-round pick in 1974, as one of the premier offensive players in the league. Drew, who was Basketball Weekly's Rookie of the Year for 1974-75 while leading the league in offensive rebounds, averaged 21.4 points per game in his second season.

Rumors abounded that a move was imminent, and that a new owner was soon to purchase the team; but Hubie Brown, who coached the Kentucky Colonels to the 1975 NBA Championship, took over the team and promptly began to change the team's image. Midway through the 1976-77 season (January '77), half of the rumor became reality as R.E. "Ted" Turner, owner of the Braves and WTCG-TV, bought the club but stated the team would remain in Atlanta.

Hudson, an 11-year veteran of 730 NBA games, all in a Hawks uniform, was traded to Los Angeles (Lakers) as a youth movement was instituted. The #23 worn by Hudson was retired on the Lakers' first visit to the Omni, marking the second Hawks number to be retired. The two men so honored to that point, Pettit and Hudson, shared the Atlanta record for the most points scored in one game: 57.

Brown's first team suffered through a difficult initial year ('76-'77) by finishing in sixth place in their division with a 31-51 record. The team made a dramatic turnaround just one year later (1977-78), becoming the Cinderella team of the NBA, by advancing to the playoffs for the first time in five years. Brown was named NBA Coach of the Year as the fans became "Hubie's Sixth Man." In addition to Brown's coaching, Atlanta's move forward was sparked by two rookies who would have an impact in the team's history for years to come.

Seven-foot-two center Wayne "Tree" Rollins was selected by the Hawks in the first round of the NBA draft to secure the middle for the team. The Hawks' other impact pick was 6-2 guard Eddie Johnson. These two additions, along with a proven veteran like Drew, would comprise the nucleus of the team.

The Hawks were again playoff participants in 1978-79, but it was just a building block for the following season. Atlanta added forward Dan Roundfield that season and his play, along with the other players, brought the Central Division title to Atlanta in 1979-80. The squad finished with a 50-32 mark, and a first-place finish for the first time in nine years, and three players, Drew, Johnson and Roundfield, participated in the 1980 NBA All-Star game.

After just one season at the top, the Hawks fell 20 games under the .500 mark (1980-81), finishing 31-51 and out of the playoffs for the first time in four years.

Atlanta replaced Brown as coach with former New York/New Jersey Nets coach Kevin Loughery, and he led the Hawks back to the playoffs during both of his seasons in Atlanta (1981-82 and 1982-83) before leaving the team following his final year for another coaching position.

The Hawks' biggest move during Loughery's tenure was made off the court on September 3, 1982. The team traded players John Drew and Freeman Williams plus cash to the Utah Jazz in exchange for Dominique Wilkins, who they had selected that year in the NBA draft. Wilkins, a former All-American player at the University of Georgia, was a unanimous choice to the NBA All-Rookie first team in his rookie season, which was a preview of coming attractions.

Former Hawks assistant Michael Fratello was named to succeed Loughery as the Atlanta franchise's fifth head coach, and he promptly led the Hawks to their third consecutive playoff appearance in 1983-84.

Seeking to change their fortunes and join the NBA elite teams, Atlanta implemented their second youth movement. The Hawks introduced a three-year rebuilding plan in 1984-85 that would hopefully bring the team closer to a championship.

The movement started with the Hawks dealing Roundfield to the Detroit Pistons for forwards Cliff Levingston and Antoine Carr and two future draft picks. Roundfield concluded his six-year career with three All-Star seasons and a 17.6 points-per-game average. In addition to acquiring the youthful forwards, Atlanta drafted another big man in 7-0 center Kevin Willis of Michigan State. Willis' size and speed for an inside player would give the Hawks added depth in the frontcourt. The task of rebuilding was a long and difficult process for Fratello and the Hawks that season as the club finished 34-48 and out of the playoffs for only the second time in eight years.

As a result of missing the playoffs, there was some consolation as the team prepared for the '85-'86 season. The Hawks were allowed to participate in the NBA's first draft lottery (where the seven teams not making the playoffs were allowed to draw for the top seven picks in the 1985 draft), and with the fifth selection, Atlanta grabbed another seven-footer, SMU's Jon Koncak.

One of Atlanta's interesting free agent signings that season was 5-7 guard Anthony "Spud" Webb from N.C. State. A diminutive athlete who defied the odds of making an NBA roster, Webb electrified fans throughout the league with his speed and incredible jumping ability (42 inches). That talent was showcased at the 1986 NBA All-Star Weekend, as Webb defeated his teammate and defending champion Wilkins in the '86 Slam Dunk contest.

Despite the loss of his "crown," Wilkins became the first Atlanta player to lead the NBA in scoring after averaging 30.3 points in '85-'86. He was also honored with his first appearance in the NBA All-Star game, and he was also named to the first-team All-NBA squad.

As a team, the Hawks tied franchise marks for most wins in a season (50) and best home record (34-7), and their 50-32 record, which was second in the Central Division, was the league's biggest turnaround (+16 games) from the previous campaign. For his efforts, Fratello was named Haggard/NBA Coach of the Year.

With the high expectations of the 1986-87 season awaiting them, the Hawks provided another year of outstanding play. A franchise record 57 wins capped an extraordinary season that saw Atlanta win the Central Division title. With the third-best record in the NBA, the Hawks established themselves among the league's elite teams, and with the combination of talent and athletic ability, they became one of the NBA's most popular teams. Wilkins finished second among the league's leaders in scoring with a 29.0 average, and was voted an All-Star starter for the first time in his career (his second appearance overall).

Several individual records were also established as Glenn "Doc" Rivers broke Atlanta's single-season assist record with 823, which also ranked him fourth in the NBA (10.0 average). Rollins moved into second place on the NBA's all-time blocked shots list, and Mike McGee set an all-time team mark for three-point goals (86) and attempts (229). The team made the playoffs for the second straight season and defeated Indiana in the first round, but faltered in the second round and lost to the Detroit Pistons.

The following season ('87-'88), the Hawks were replaced as division champs by Detroit, as Atlanta concluded the season four games out of first place with a 50-32 record. Highlighting the year's achievements was the first appearance by a Hawks coach in the annual NBA All-Star game, as Mike Fratello earned the spot after Atlanta placed the best record in the Eastern Conference over the first half of the season. Joining Fratello on the victorious East squad were Wilkins and Rivers, who scored 29 and nine points respectively.

An exciting seven-game second-round playoff series against Boston ended the Hawks' quest for a possible championship series berth, but Atlanta followers, who during the season set new attendance records in The Omni, anxiously awaited the start of the 1988-89 year as the Hawks made two off-season acquisitions to challenge for the NBA championship.

With the addition of Moses Malone and Reggie Theus, many prognosticators around the country believed the Hawks would pose a serious threat for the club's second NBA title, but that was prior to the monumental loss of Willis, who would miss all 82 games with a fracture in his left foot. Despite the absence of the seven-foot forward, Atlanta ended the season with its fourth straight 50-win campaign (which at that time was the longest current streak in the Eastern Conference).

But what most will remember about the Hawks' '88-'89 season is the disappointing end to their title dreams, as the Milwaukee Bucks, who were beaten in all six regular season meetings with Atlanta, upset the Hawks in the first round of the NBA playoffs, three games to two.

The Hawks continued to struggle in 1989-90 as injuries plagued the team over much of the season, forcing them to miss the playoffs for the first time in five years. With a 41-41 record, Atlanta dropped to sixth place in the Central Division.

As a result, Michael Fratello resigned as head coach on April 23, 1990 and was replaced on May 22 by former NBA player and San Antonio Head Coach Bob Weiss.

On the strength of a 22-game home winning streak, Atlanta returned to the playoffs and pushed the two-time defending champion Detroit Pistons to five games before the curtains fell on the 1990-91 season.

Weiss' coaching approach wasn't lost on Hawks fans, as well as the rest of the league, and was certainly evident in December when he was named Digital/NBA Coach of the Month as Atlanta streaked to an 11-3 record.

The season also brought improved play from Wilkins, who soared to his sixth NBA All-Star Game appearance in addition to Player of the Week (in January) and Month (in February) honors. While leading the team in scoring for the eighth straight season, he led the team for the first time in rebounding, and finished third in assists.

Unfortunately for the Hawks, January 28, 1992 was the telling blow of the 1991-92 season. Prior to that evening's game against Philadelphia, Wilkins was selected as a reserve for the Eastern Conference All-Star Game and was looking forward to the opportunity to become the 17th player in league history to reach the 20,000-point level. In the second quarter (with 5:32 remaining), the 6-8 forward, whose 28.1 scoring average trailed only Chicago's Michael Jordan, suffered a ruptured right achilles tendon injury which forced him to miss the remainder of the season.

At the time, Atlanta's record was 22-20. Without their veteran, the Hawks finished 16-24 and surprisingly, only one game away from making the 1992 NBA Playoffs. It came down to the final regular season game of the season, and if not for a 112-108 loss at Cleveland, Weiss' squad would have capped off an injury-filled campaign by earning an opening round playoff berth against Chicago.

Not only were the Hawks without the services of Wilkins for the final 40 games, but the outside shooting of Travis Mays was absent for 80 games after he suffered tendon problems in his right ankle after the second game of the year.

While deserving of an All-Star position prior to replacing his fallen teammate, center Kevin Willis' production was worthy of praise. After years of unfulfilled expectations, he led Atlanta in scoring (18.3), rebounding (15.5) and minutes played (2,962). His work on the boards (which also placed him second in the NBA) enabled him to become Atlanta's all-time season rebounding leader (1,258), and his 33 rebounds against Washington was an Atlanta game record.

The 1992-93 season saw the previous season's goal attained: the Hawks finished 43-39 and met the Chicago Bulls in the first round of the playoffs. An appearance in the playoffs had alternately seemed likely and impossible throughout this tumultuous season. To begin the season, Wilkins returned to the court after his career-threatening achilles injury to score his 20,000th point and become only the 17th NBA player to do so. Atlanta gained a true point guard from the New Jersey Nets as Rumeal Robinson was traded away for Nets guard Mookie Blaylock. Blaylock provided the leadership and ball distribution that the Hawks so desperately needed, and the season showed potential.

Although the first half of the season was spent in the depths of mediocrity, there were some bright spots. On February 2, Wilkins scored 31 points against Seattle to become the franchise's all-time leading scorer by breaking Bob Pettit's long-standing record of 20,880.

Slated to face the Bulls in the first round of the NBA Playoffs, the games went quickly, with Chicago sweeping the Hawks in three en route to their third straight NBA title.

Immediately after the season, the Hawks announced that Weiss would not have his contract extended. The search for a new coach began in April and ended on June 1, when former Cavaliers Head Coach Lenny Wilkens rejoined the franchise. Wilkens, who spent eight years with the Hawks in St. Louis and entered the 1993-94 season 69 victories behind Arnold "Red" Auerbach's league-record total of 938 career coaching wins, brought longtime assistant coaches Dick Helm and Brian Winters with him in the move to Atlanta and began to look at the talent he was handed. With the draft at hand and a #15 first-round pick, the Hawks took Doug Edwards, a 6-7 forward known for his defense and passing, a perfect complement to the Hawks' squad.

While it was believed Wilkens and his staff would improve the Hawks fortunes, no one imagined the results would be so immediate. The 1993-94 season brought the franchise's third Central Division championship, a 57-25 record (the best in the Eastern Conference), and the first IBM/NBA Coach of the Year award for Wilkens, who also earned his fourth All-Star coaching assignment by leading the Eastern Conference All-Stars during the 1994 Game in Minneapolis.

Blaylock's season was also highlighted by his first appearance in the NBA All-Star Game, joining fellow teammate Wilkins and the Hawks coaching staff on the Eastern Conference squad.

For Wilkins however, his All-Star showing would be his last in an Atlanta uniform, when on February 24, the Hawks traded their future Hall-of-Famer and a number one draft pick to the Clippers for Danny Manning, ending a 12-year career in Hot-lanta. Wilkins, who began the 1994-95 season in Boston, concluded his days in Atlanta as the franchise leader in numerous categories including games played (882), minutes played (32,542), steals (1,245), points scored (23,292) and scoring average (26.4).

The 1994-95 season began with a bang, as two games into the season the Hawks traded Kevin Willis, who ranked among Hawks all-time leaders in every rebounding category. In exchange for Willis and a future first-round pick, Atlanta received Steve Smith and Grant Long from the Heat, who helped form the cornerstone for the future of the franchise.

Adjusting to the change in team chemistry didn't come easily. The Hawks came out of the gates slowly for the second consecutive year, before eventually recovering to the .500 mark (30-30) on March 10.

The highlight of the season was Lenny Wilkens' pursuit of Red Auerbach's all-time NBA wins mark of 939.

After trying unsuccessfully three times to deliver the record breaking win, the stage was set for a home game against Washington on January 6. Behind 23 points from Ken Norman, Atlanta pulled away early, eventually winning 112-90.

Going into the playoffs, Atlanta was playing their best ball of the season, getting solid contributions all around.

Unfortunately for the Hawks, their first round opponent was the Central Division champion (and Atlanta arch-rival) Indiana Pacers, a tough, veteran club as well. The Pacers were on top of their game and swept the Hawks, 3-0.

Going into the 1995-96 season, the Hawks hoped to return to the upper echelon of the Eastern Conference as their nucleus continued to grow stronger with experience. Atlanta felt they had the right mix to contend again immediately.

The season turned for the better on the night of January 7, as the team was stranded in New Jersey, due to the Blizzard of '96. After having a contest with the Nets postponed, the Hawks came home and reeled off 10 consecutive wins.

As the Hawks rolled toward the playoffs, the team hit a couple of bumps, losing three straight home games at one point in the final month of the season. But a win at Miami on the last day of the season sealed the sixth playoff spot for the Hawks, where they would face the Pacers for the third consecutive year.

When Reggie Miller's three-point attempt at the final buzzer rimmed out, the Hawks had prevailed in an exciting five-game series.

Although the Hawks fell to the Orlando Magic in the second round of the playoffs in five games (4-1), they didn't go down without a fight.

The acquisition of Dikembe Mutombo in 1996 gave Atlanta the big defensive presence in the middle they lacked since "Tree" Rollins. Mutombo's combination of shot blocking and rebounding ability is unparalleled in the NBA.

As the 1996-97 season began, the Hawks featured four All-Star caliber players and Dream Team III head coach Lenny Wilkens at the helm.

The addition of Mutombo, along with the movement of Laettner to his natural position, helped lead Atlanta to 56 wins (one off the franchise record), including a 20-game home winning streak and a franchise-tying 36 home wins.

Over the first two months of the season, the Hawks went 16-11, setting the stage for a record January. Atlanta went 14-2 that month, the most wins in a single month in franchise history. The Hawks reeled off 10 straight wins, equalling the fourth-best win streak in Atlanta history.

The Hawks pulled out a 3-2 win in the first round of the playoffs against the Pistons, setting the stage for a showdown with the Bulls.

After almost pulling out game one in Chicago, the Hawks did the unthinkable, winning at the United Center, and becoming the first team to win a road playoff game there since 1995. But the Bulls reeled off the next three games to win the series.

Mookie Blaylock turned in another solid season, leading the NBA in steals (2.7) for the first time, while Mutombo finished second in the league in blocked shots (3.3) and rebounding (11.6).

The Hawks pulled out a 3-2 win in the first round of the playoffs against the Pistons.

After almost pulling out game one of Round Two in Chicago, the Hawks did the unthinkable, winning at the United Center, and becoming the first team to win a road playoff game there since 1995. But the Bulls reeled off the next three games to win the series.

The Hawks success brought individual honors to a couple of players as Mutombo took home the NBA's Defensive Player of the Year Award and a first-team All-Defensive honor. Blaylock also received consideration for the All-Defensive team, garnering second team honors.

The start of the 1997-98 season brought an unparalleled level of excitement over the city. The Hawks began the season with a franchise record 11-game winning streak, tying the fifth-best start in NBA history.

The rest of the season didn't live up to the first month's promise, however, as Atlanta posted a 5-8 mark in December followed by a 9-8 January, which led to a 29-20 mark after the All-Star break.

After finishing fifth overall in the conference, the Hawks solidified a first-round playoff matchup with the Charlotte Hornets, a team Atlanta had swept, 4-0, during the regular season.

The playoffs didn't hold true to form, as the Hornets surprised the Hawks, winning the series, 3-1, and moving on to face eventual champion Chicago in the second round.

Alan Henderson was named as the league's Most Improved Player after posting career-highs in points (14.3), rebounds (6.4), assists (1.1), shooting percentage (.485) and free throw percentage (.652).

The 1998-99 season was memorable for many reasons. A season cut short by the NBA's first work stoppage (lockout), Atlanta put together a 31-19 mark, just two games off the best mark in the Eastern Conference.

The Hawks finished up 2-1 in May, and headed into the playoffs with the fourth seed.

The playoffs also proved to be a make-or-break proposition, as Atlanta took a 3-2 first round win over Detroit, but followed it with a difficult 4-0 second round loss to eventual Eastern Conference finalist New York.

The 1999 offseason was one of great transition, as the Hawks traded the longtime backcourt tandem of Mookie Blaylock and Steve Smith.

As the team moved into their new home, Philips Arena, the youthful and athletic direction of the team promised to be exciting.

The 1999-2000 saw the opening of the state-of-the-art Philips Arena, where the Hawks recorded a 21-20 mark on the campaign. Early on, after pulling even at a 9-9 mark, the Hawks went just 19-45 the remainder of the season.

Rookie Jason Terry brought hope for the future, as the 10th overall pick was named to the NBA's All-Rookie second team.

Dikembe Mutombo was once again named to the Eastern Conference All-Star team and won the NBA rebounding title for the first time in his career. He also finished second in blocked shots and field goal percentage.

Following the season, head coach Lenny Wilkens elected to resign his position, setting the stage for the Lon Kruger era. Kruger, who spent 18 years as a college coach at Pan American, Kansas State, Florida and Illinois looked to duplicate his success on the pro level.

While 2000-01 was not a successful season from a won-loss standpoint, a strong foundation was laid, and the subsequent offseason provided an excitement level unmatched in recent years.

Despite being on the losing end of the most contests in franchise history (57), Lon Kruger's group showed outstanding effort on a nightly basis and the team's attitude did not go unnoticed.

Jason Terry avoided the sophomore jinx in a big way leading the team with 19.7 ppg, the highest by a Hawk since Steve Smith's 20.1 output in 1997-98.

A mid-season trade changed the look of the team's future, as center Dikembe Mutombo was traded to the Philadelphia 76ers for three talents – Theo Ratliff, Toni Kukoc and Nazr Mohammed.

Ratliff was named the Eastern Conference's starting center in the 2001 NBA All-Star Game, but was unable to play due to a fractured wrist. That injury also pushed his Hawks debut back to the 2001-02 season.

Three-time NBA champ Kukoc and the unheralded Mohammed both made major contributions, with Mohammed playing so well he was re-signed in the offseason.

The draft day acquisition of the Grizzlies' Shareef-Abdur Rahim provided a tremendous amount of buzz around the league, as the experienced, yet young 2000 U.S. Olympian will now lead his hometown team.

Injuries became a major story of 2001-02, as the Hawks lost an NBA-high 319 games due to injury/illness.

While there were some terrific individual performances — Shareef Abdur Rahim's All-Star appearance, 50-point game and all-around consistent play - the loss of Theo Ratliff for 79 of the season's 82 games proved too much to overcome in a 33-49 campaign.

Jason Terry also shined, averaging 19.3 ppg (his second straight season over 19 ppg), while the exciting DerMarr Johnson showed significant development over his rookie season.

The Hawks delivered a solid performance over the second half of the season, going 17-16 following the All-Star break (after a 16-33 first half).

Ira Newble, signed in mid-January, brought a toughness and defensive presence to the club, starting 35 of 42 games in which he played.

The summer of 2002 saw another draft night trade, as the Hawks acquired Gonzaga point guard Dan Dickau from the Sacramento Kings in exchange for a future first round pick. In the second round, Atlanta selected Australian David Andersen (37th overall).

An early August trade added All-Star forward Glenn Robinson to the Hawks roster, bringing one of the league's best mid-range shooters and scorers to the Atlanta roster.

There were very high expectations entering the 2002-03 season.

After a 6-4 start through 10 games, the Hawks dropped 12 of 17, costing head coach Lon Kruger his job. Assistant coach Terry Stotts replaced Kruger and had a rough start as well, going 3-11.

But the Hawks showed signs of life in mid-January, and really began playing solidly following the All-Star break.

Speaking of All-Star, the 2003 classic, held at Philips Arena, was certainly a highlight for the franchise and the city, as the first-ever double overtime All-Star game ended with a 155-145 West win. Kevin Garnett (37 points) secured MVP honors in Michael Jordan's final All-Star appearance.

Atlanta produced a 16-17 mark following the break, and posted a 6-2 mark in April. Glenn Robinson,

Shareef Abdur-Rahim and Jason Terry combined to average 57.9 ppg, becoming the highest-scoring trio in the league on the season. Additionally, center Theo Ratliff returned to All-Star form in the season's second half.

After the first part of the 2003-04 season didn't go as planned, General Manager Billy Knight decided major changes had to be made for the franchise to move forward. His vision included adding young, versatile and athletic players, and taking no shortcuts to build a long-term winner.

Over a 10-day span in February, Knight pulled off three major trades, leaving the Hawks with massive salary cap room for the summer of 2004.

In another move that changed the shape of the franchise, the Hawks were sold to a nine-man ownership group led by businessmen Bruce Levenson and Michael Gearon on March 31, 2004.

On the court, Stephen Jackson had a breakout season, while rookies Boris Diaw and Travis Hansen showed signs of things to come.

Leading into 2004-05, the Hawks made several roster moves, including the acquisitions of veterans Al Harrington, Antoine Walker, Tony Delk, Peja Stojakovic and Kenny Anderson, and the return of former Hawks Kevin Willis and Jon Barry. Additionally, the team stocked up with four draft picks — Josh Childress (sixth overall), Josh Smith (17th), Donta Smith (34th) and Royal Ivey (37th).

By the time the smoke cleared, only two players remained on the roster (Chris Crawford and Boris Diaw) from the start of the previous season.

The season was a frustrating one in some ways (with a 13-69 finish), but also led to opportunities for the team's young nucleus to get significant playing time as the season went along.

Childress and Smith especially made progress, with both earning NBA second-team All-Rookie honors after solid rookie campaigns.

The high-flying Smith captured the imagination of the entire league on All-Star Weekend in Denver, single-handedly rejuvenating the Slam Dunk Contest in the process. The 19-year-old rookie put together four devastating dunks (three earned perfect 50's) en route to earning the title.

In the 2005-06 campaign, the young Hawks showed significant progress, both individually and team-wise. The addition of the multi-talented Joe Johnson was a huge step for the franchise, as was the drafting of Marvin Williams (2nd overall) and Salim Stoudamire (31st overall).

After a blockbuster trade to acquire him prior to the season, Johnson was everything the team expected and more, coming up with four 40+ point games, the most since Dominique Wilkins' eight in 1992-93, leading the team in several offensive categories, breaking the franchise's single-season record for minutes played and earning a spot on the prestigious USA Senior National Team program.

Another offseason acquisition, restricted free agent signee Zaza Pachulia, proved to be a great find in the pivot. Second-year man Josh Smith came on especially strong after the All-Star break, and finished second in the NBA in total blocks. Williams and Stoudamire showed promise as well, the former improving his scoring and rebounding every month.

The club went 26-56, doubling the previous season's win total, improving more than all but two teams in the league. With the club believed to be the youngest in NBA history (avg. age – 23), the sky seems to be the limit.

In September of 2006, the franchise (and fans around the world) celebrated the induction of legend Dominique Wilkins into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame, as he took his rightful place among the immortals of the sport.

The 2006-07 campaign saw continued growth of the team's exciting young core, despite a devastating rash of injuries. Four of the team's top seven players missed 20 or more games, and Atlanta only had six games with all top seven players healthy.

Joe Johnson stepped up as one of the elite players in the league, ranking ninth in the NBA in scoring (25.0), while earning the team's first All-Star berth since 2002. Johnson missed the first games of his six-year career due to injury (missing 25 total), yet recorded 19 30-point games, and set a franchise record by beginning the season with seven consecutive games scoring 25 or more.

Josh Smith was outstanding as well, placing second in the league in blocks (207), in the process of becoming the youngest player in NBA history (21 years, 88 days) to reach the 500-block milestone. But his all-around game began to catch up as well, as he was one of just three men in the league to rank in the top 20 in blocks, steals and rebounds.

Still the youngest team in the NBA, Atlanta saw its win total improve for the third straight season (Hawks finished 30-52), as all five of the team's top players (Johnson, Smith, Josh Childress, Marvin Williams and Zaza Pachulia) finished with career-high scoring numbers.

The Hawks' patience over the last several years paid off in the 2007-08 season. After recording a 37-45 mark and reaching postseason play for the first time since 1999, Atlanta took the NBA's top regular season team and eventual champion (Boston) to seven games, before falling 4-3 in the thrilling first round series. The home contests (all Hawks wins) in particular generated tremendous support from the Philips Arena faithful, and raised eyebrows around the NBA.

Veteran point guard Mike Bibby was added to the roster at the trade deadline, and the Hawks' picked it up offensively in the second half of the season, playing their way into the playoff picture.

Several Hawks players pushed their games to the next level — Joe Johnson earned his second straight All-Star berth, Josh Smith again finished second in the league in blocks (and placed sixth in Defensive Player of the Year voting), Al Horford was the only unanimous selection to the NBA All-Rookie team (finishing as the runner-up for Rookie of the Year) and Josh Childress was sixth in voting for the NBA's Sixth Man Award.

The momentum generated in the 2007-08 playoffs certainly carried over into the 2008-09 regular season, as Atlanta recorded its best (and first .500 or better) campaign in 10 years.

Sporting one of the league's best home records (31-10), the Hawks improved their overall mark for the fourth straight year, going 47-35, finishing second in the Southeast Division and fourth in the Eastern Conference.

Joe Johnson made the All-Star game for the third straight season, and hit the 10,000 career point plateau on Jan. 31.

Atlanta reached the Eastern Conference semifinals (also for the first time since 1999), as they took out Miami, 4-3 in the first round, before falling, 4-0, to Cleveland.

The still-young team looked to continue that momentum in 2009-10.

The 2009-10 campaign was notable for many reasons, not the least of which was the Hawks recording 53 wins, a superlative 34 home victories and once again advancing to the second round of the playoffs for the second straight season.

While much of the '08-'09 team returned for '09-'10, a new face provided a major difference off the bench. Veteran Jamal Crawford, who was acquired in the summer of 2009, eagerly accepted and thrived in his substitute role, earning NBA Sixth Man of the Year honors.

Joe Johnson was named an All-Star for the fourth straight season, and took home his first berth on the All-NBA team (third team). Josh Smith was runner-up to childhood friend Dwight Howard for Defensive Player of the Year honors, and made the NBA All-Defensive second team.

Second-year big man Al Horford earned his first All-Star berth, giving Atlanta two players in the game for the first time in 12 years.

After beating Milwaukee in the first round, the Hawks ran into a hot Orlando Magic squad in round two, suffering a 4-0 sweep in the Conference Semifinals for the second consecutive year.

Looking to take another step forward, the club installed longtime assistant coach Larry Drew as the club's new head coach, after 27 combined seasons in the NBA as a player and coach.

He led the club to a red-hot 6-0 start (the best by a first-year head coach in Atlanta history) and in the season's first half, the Hawks became a dangerous road team, while maintaining their home dominance. Atlanta enjoyed a 10-game home win streak, as well as a six-game road win streak, during the campaign.

After securing a playoff spot in early April, the Hawks rested most of their primary players, and finished off with a 44-38 mark, good for fifth in the East, earning a rematch with Orlando in the first round of the 2011 NBA Playoffs.

After taking the series opener in a hostile environment in Orlando, the Hawks controlled most of the games, earning a 4-2 series win, and a measure of sweet revenge from the embarrassing loss in the '10 Playoffs.

But Atlanta couldn't get past the NBA's best team during the regular season, the Chicago Bulls, in the Eastern Conference Semifinals. Tied at two games each, and holding a lead in the fourth quarter of game five, the Hawks couldn't hang on. After losing the fifth game, Atlanta came home and fell in game six.

But progress was certainly made, as the Hawks played their best basketball during the postseason.

PLAYER PERSONNEL GUIDE

ROSTERS

Each team is required to carry 12 players on its active list and one player on its inactive list. Teams may have a maximum of three players on its inactive list. Players sent to the NBA Development League will continue to count on a team's inactive list.

PLAYOFF ROSTERS

Must be submitted by 3:00 p.m. Eastern time on the day before the playoffs begin (playoffs begin on April 28, 2012).

RENUNCIATION OF AMATEUR ELIGIBILITY

A person who is at least 19 years of age and who is one year removed from high school shall become eligible for the college draft if he renounces his intercollegiate basketball eligibility by written notice to the NBA at least 60 days prior to the draft. Prior to the 60 days before the draft, teams may not make direct contact with players who have intercollegiate basketball eligibility left. Clubs may contact players without remaining eligibility but may not discuss compensation.

TRADING OF FIRST DRAFT CHOICES

No team may sell or trade its right to select a player in the first round of the college draft if the result of such an exchange would be to leave the club without first round picks in any two consecutive drafts.

PRE-DRAFT CAMPS

Prior to the college draft, teams are prohibited from conducting so-called "mini-camps" for prospective players eligible for the draft.

SALARY CAP

The 2011-12 salary cap is $58.044 million.

INSTANT REPLAY

Instant replay review will be triggered automatically — and not at the discretion of the officials or teams — in the following situations:

FIELD GOAL ATTEMPTS

A field goal that could affect the outcome of the game is made with no time remaining on the clock (0:00) at the end of the fourth quarter or any overtime period.

A field goal is made with no time remaining on the clock (0:00) at the end of the first, second and third quarters.

Once replay is triggered in either of these two situations, the officials will review instant replay to determine whether time on the game clock had expired before the ball left the shooter's hand. If the shot was timely, the officials may also review the tape to determine if the field goal was scored correctly as a two-point or three-point basket, whether the shooter committed a boundary line violation when he released the ball and whether a 24-second clock or 8-second backcourt violation occurred before the shot.

FOULS

A foul for which the resulting free throws could affect the outcome of the game is called with no time remaining on the clock (0:00) at the end of the fourth quarter or any overtime period.

A foul is called with no time remaining on the clock (0:00) at the end of the first, second and third quarters.

In these situations, officials will review instant replay to determine only whether the called foul occurred prior to the expiration of time on the game clock and not whether the call itself was correct.

STEVE HOLMAN

Voice of the Hawks

Broadcasting ironman Steve Holman begins his 27th season behind the mic on the Atlanta Hawks Radio Network. The "Voice of the Hawks" has broadcast 1,890 consecutive Hawks games on radio, including playoffs, dating back to March of 1989, the longest current streak of any NBA broadcaster. He has been broadcasting games for more than half of the team's 43 years in Atlanta, and has done well over 2,000 Hawks contests overall.

His most recent milestone, consecutive game no. 1,500, came on his 53rd birthday on March 5, 2007 in Miami. Holman worked his 1,000th straight Hawks radio broadcast on February 18, 2001 when Atlanta visited Golden State.

Holman has announced Hawks games around the globe, including contests from Russia, England, Puerto Rico and Canada, and has been a part of several notable historical calls, including the night Dominique Wilkins became the team's all-time scoring leader, as well as Lenny Wilkens' record-breaking 939th career win.

The 57-year-old Holman had done play-by-play and color commentary on Hawks broadcasts for 3 1/2 years before taking over the full time play-by-play duties in 1989.

During the 1996 Centennial Olympic Games, Holman was part of Westwood One's/NBC National Radio coverage, calling play-by-play action for both the United States men's and women's gold medal basketball teams in addition to boxing.

Holman's first radio job was as a 17-year-old high school senior at WCCM, where he got to work under sportscasting icon Curt Gowdy, who owned the station. Holman has been involved in the NBA since the early 1970s when he was broadcast assistant to the Boston Celtics' late play-by-play legend Johnny Most. Holman's first experience calling NBA action came in 1975 when Most lost his voice mid-game.

He has been a fixture on Atlanta radio since 1980 when he arrived to work on Falcons football and Atlanta Chiefs soccer. Along with his numerous awards for sports reporting, Holman has also won the Georgia Associated Press Award for his Hawks broadcast coverage. He was recently inducted into the Georgia Radio Hall of Fame. Holman and his wife Mary Jane reside in Newnan and are the parents of two grown sons, Steve Jr., and Scott, whose wife Amy gave birth to Holman's first grandson, Connor, in November.

Holman was born March 5, 1954 in Lawrence, Massachusetts.

BOB RATHBUN

TV Play-by-Play

One of the NBA's most recognizable and decorated play-by-play announcers, Bob Rathbun enters his 16th season as the television play-by-play voice for the Hawks. Rathbun will call all of the games on the Hawks' SportSouth package.

Rathbun has earned a variety of significant broadcasting awards during his career. He was recently named as one of three finalists for Georgia's top sportscaster by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association. In April 2008, he was inducted into the media wing of the Virginia Sports Hall of Fame. In 2008 and 2009, FSN South walked away with an Emmy for Outstanding Achievement, Sporting Event/Game (Live Unedited), including one in 2009 for its broadcast of the Hawks-Celtics Game Six playoff contest from 2008.

In 2007, Rathbun won the same Emmy for his work on FSN's winning entry while broadcasting play-by-play for the Atlanta Braves.

His basketball work has touched nearly all of the major broadcast outlets. His NBA work has earned him opportunities to call games for TNT and NBA-TV, after a collegiate resume that includes stints with CBS (NCAA basketball tournament), ABC, and ESPN (college basketball plus college football and the College World Series).

Rathbun has served as the college basketball play-by-play announcer for the ACC Television Network through Raycom Sports since 1988, and he has called games for both the ACC and the SEC on FSN South since he arrived in Atlanta in 1996. He currently calls games on FSN South's coverage of SEC football, as well as the network's WNBA Atlanta Dream action.

With an extensive sports background, Rathbun's broadcasting career has earned him seven Sportscaster of the Year honors (Virginia: 1980-82, 1985, 1988-89; Georgia 1998), a Distinguished Service Award from the ACC (1994), and a Distinguished Alumni Award from Catawba College (1988). He was inducted into his alma mater's Sports Hall of Fame in 2006.

His baseball resume includes 10 years as FSN South's voice of the Atlanta Braves, three seasons on radio in Detroit with the Tigers, and part-time work on Baltimore Orioles' TV broadcasts.

Rathbun, who graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree in speech from Catawba College (1976), and his wife Marybeth have two children, Court and Grace.

HISTORY

Philips Arena's sports attendance record of 20,425 was set on May 2, 2008 during the Hawks' thrilling NBA Playoffs win over the Boston Celtics, in game six of their first round series.

Philips Arena replaced the Omni Coliseum when it was imploded in 1997. The Omni was home to the NBA's Atlanta Hawks beginning with the 1968-69 season when they moved from St. Louis.

The venue hosts a variety of sports/entertainment events annually including Harlem Globetrotters, Disney On Ice, Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus and Sesame Street Live.

CAPACITY AND ACCESSIBILITY

Maximum seating capacity of Philips Arena (approximate):

18,371 for Basketball

20,642 for Concerts

This design – with input from R.E.M.'s Michael Mills – has proven to be a hit both with concert performers and their audiences.

Philips Arena meets all standards for accessibility by persons with disabilities. Disabled seating areas are accessible by wheelchairs and provide views of the arena floor equal to the sightlines for standing spectators.
